The Environmental Health Branch (EHB) was tasked with the enforcement of the COVID-19 Health Orders and Directives. This enforcement work included after normal work hours and on the weekends. These inspections ensured that the Health Orders were complied with even on the weekends which was unique in the greater Bay Area. As a result, the business community quickly became aware of the fact that they could not take the weekends off when it came to Health Order compliance. This effort helped contribute to the overall low rate of infection seen among San Francisco citizens. The EHB staff that participated in this effort were mostly all volunteers. These volunteers performed hundreds of inspections, educated the public, issued notices of violation and gave up their weekends for public health.

Patrick Fosdahl (Fozdoll), Director of the Environmental Health Branch, will now read the names of the team members and make a few comments.
