Canopy of Sky

Proposal for Citywide Park, Treasure Island by Ned Kahn

My intent is to create an artwork that opens people up to the magic of the river of ocean air that washes over Treasure Island and hopefully fosters a sense of stewardship towards the delicate envelope of air and water that surround this sphere of rock we call the Earth.

The proposed artwork will consist of a 20' diameter stainless steel ring suspended by cables connected to 4 curved aluminum poles. Stretched across this ring will be hundreds of stainless steel cables populated with 7000 translucent polycarbonate disks that will flutter in the wind like leaves. The translucency of the polycarbonate will capture light and shadow like the droplets of water in fog and clouds. Watching time-lapse video of the fog and clouds allows us to see the constant churning motion, the aliveness of the restless fog. My intent is to create an artwork that is as responsive to its environment, and as fluid, as a passing cloud.
