Citywide Workforce Development Plan- Goal #2: Equitably Invest in Workforce Programs for our Most Vulnerable
(Discussion Item)

Chair Nim introduced Jen Hand, Workforce Impact Manager, to present on the FY 2024-2029 Citywide Workforce Development Plan ("FY 24-29 Plan") Goal #2: Equitably Invest in Workforce Programs for our Most Vulnerable.

Ms. Hand presented an overview of the five working groups which align with the goals of the Citywide Workforce Development Plan for FY 2024-2029. The primary purposes of these working groups are to build leadership within the 17-member Alignment Committee, establish strategic partnerships, and advance detailed work outside of the quarterly convenings. These smaller working group meetings aim to delve into the specifics of the plan, allowing committee members and the public to participate.

The Citywide Workforce Development Plan can be accessed here:

<https://www.sf.gov/sites/default/files/2024-06/CWDP%202024-29%20-%20Citywide%20Workforce%20Development%20Plan.pdf>

Ms. Hand emphasized that the current meeting's objective is to prioritize the actions identified in the plan, with about 27 actions within this goal alone. The group needs to consolidate and prioritize these actions to drive the work forward effectively. Additionally, the meeting will address leadership, resources, timing, and the cadence of future meetings.

Ms. Hand provided background on the committee's activities over the past year, including quarterly and community meetings as well as the importance of adhering to the ordinance that mandates the work and which created a unified public body comprising major workforce-investing City departments, community leaders, and labor leaders. The Alignment Committee, formed in 2023, developed the 5-Year Plan and adopted it in April.

Ms. Hand presented the purpose of the working group and inquired if members had any additional purposes or goals they wanted to achieve from this working group. Members had no additional feedback.

Ms. Hand presented the timeline for the working group, clarifying that the current timeline set for July 2027 and may be extended at the direction of the members.

Ms. Hand presented the three outcomes along with their corresponding actions. Each outcome featured approximately 6 to 12 actions, with each committee member selecting one high-priority action per outcome. This selection will guide the committee's focus over the next five years. Members also categorized actions as medium or low priority during the discussion.

Jamboard Activity Part 1 (Prioritization of Actions):

Members expressed gratitude for public participation and acknowledged the challenge of narrowing down important issues when everything seemed significant. Member Bush highlighted the importance of developing strategies that address the diverse needs of vulnerable populations without creating divisions, and ensuring responses are tailored to specific needs. Member Barajas agreed, emphasizing the importance of supporting various communities, including migrants and the historical Black community, without sidelining any group.

Outcome 2.1: Members expressed interest regarding the prioritization of:

- Collect robust pre/post program data as well as qualitative participant stories.
- Track and report on the number of individuals from vulnerable populations (e.g., people with disabilities, unhoused, returning citizens) served through workforce initiatives.
- Adopt trauma-informed care models tailored for vulnerable communities.
- Allow flexible service delivery timelines for participant success.

Member Floyd-Rodriguez emphasized the importance of tracking and reporting the number of individuals from vulnerable populations served through workforce initiatives (Action 4). Further highlighting the need to prioritize without dividing populations, using data to identify gaps and successes. Member Brookter supported this by stressing the importance of collecting pre- and post-program data to understand the impact through tools like impact reports, ensuring voices are heard and stories are shared (Action 5).

Ms. Hand acknowledged the relevance of data-related priorities, including program evaluations and tracking/reporting individuals, and proposed consolidating efforts to include both tracking at an individual level and evaluating service/program delivery. Member Brookter agreed on combining Actions 4 and 5.

Ms. Hand also acknowledged that Hospitality House, Adult Probation Department, and Bay Area Community Resources prioritized service delivery-focused actions.

Member Barajas shared the challenges of fitting services within rigid timelines, suggesting that a trauma-informed care model should include flexible service delivery timelines. This would better meet the needs of clients and set the foundation to improve upon the other actions. Member Madison highlighted the importance of a continuation of care for workforce development, addressing higher barriers before focusing on outcome-driven goals.

Member Brookter uplifted being able to do service delivery without being outcomes driven, sharing the loss of a young person, and emphasizing the need for services that support individuals beyond traditional metrics of success. Member Jackson highlighted the importance of adopting trauma-informed care models that implement non-traditional practices to get people through the door. Member Barajas noted that the workforce system has historically prioritized tracking impact data (e.g., placements, employment, certifications), but it is important to implement metrics that capture the journey and equity measures of success, ensuring that the service delivery is culturally responsive and trauma-informed to the specific needs of the community.

Ms. Hand suggested that this group's work include identifying measures and metrics to assess certain programs or departments on the quality-of-service delivery and trauma-informed care.

Members concluded with a consensus on two key priorities: tracking and reporting on vulnerable populations and adopting trauma-informed care models that allow for flexible service delivery.

Outcome 2.2: Members expressed consensus regarding the prioritization of:

- Implement pre-program interventions and additional support to increase the ability of individuals with significant barriers to enter and successfully complete career pathway programs.
- Partner with deeply embedded community organizations to conduct outreach and recruitment, such as funding and deploying outreach workers from the communities being served, providing incentives for respected community members to promote services, and prioritizing hiring staff from the impacted communities.

Member Bush emphasized that community-based organizations have direct success rates and are deeply connected to the communities they serve, making them valuable partners. Member Madison explained that pre-program interventions are crucial for providing necessary support beyond workforce development skills, including integrating workforce services with other wraparound services for comprehensive support. Member Barajas highlighted the need for recruitment and skill-building initiatives during incarceration to support individuals both during and after their time in custody. Member Jackson noted that co-located services prevent individuals from having too many case managers, reducing the risk of missing critical support.

Members reached a consensus on prioritizing actions 2 and 3, recognizing them as high priorities. Actions 1 and 5 were also highlighted as significant for system-wide coordination, including co-location of services and skills credentialing during incarceration.

Member Bush emphasized the importance of partnering with justice-involved and TGI populations, suggesting strategies to integrate these groups as high priorities.

Ms. Hand suggested expanding the focus to include interventions at all stages—pre-program, during the program, and retention—to better serve vulnerable populations with comprehensive support. Member Floyd-Rodriguez supported this broader approach, emphasizing the need for additional supports.

Outcome 2.3: Members expressed consensus regarding the prioritization of:

- Develop vocational training, language learning, and educational programs specifically tailored for unemployed, underemployed, and historically excluded workers, such as formerly incarcerated, limited English populations, immigrants, people with disabilities, women, BIPOC, and older adults.

- Explore the development of special programs to provide income opportunities for migrants seeking green cards and employment opportunities, such as entrepreneurship, worker co-operatives, and independent contracting.

Member Floyd-Rodriguez emphasized the need for programs that serve migrant communities without right-to-work documentation due to legal implications and the lack of sufficient services to effectively support these populations.

Member Barajas highlighted the importance of creating viable pathways for individuals without legal status to avoid public safety issues arising from economic necessity. Member Barajas also stressed that innovative approaches funded by OEWD have been successful and need to be expanded.

Chair Nim opened the meeting for public comment on this agenda item. Secretary Seals-Jackson provided guidance on the public comment process.

A member of the public inquired about training and housing resources for people with disabilities. Chair Nim assured them that resources are available through the Mayor's Office of Housing and Community Development and workforce program providers. Director Houston offered to share resources after the meeting.

Working Group Meeting Logistics
(Discussion Item)

Chair Nim solicited feedback regarding meeting cadence and proposed convening on a quarterly basis to maintain momentum and ensure consistent progress.

Director Houston clarified that a final report to the Board of Supervisors is due in July 2029, with an update expected by March 2025.

Member Barajas highlighted the importance of aligning the work of this group with other related working groups, particularly the one focused on workforce development across different life stages. Ms. Hand noted the interconnected nature of these efforts, though they are on parallel tracks.

Members Barajas and Brookter, who co-chair working group #3, emphasized the influence of this group's work on broader workforce development initiatives and suggested regular coordination between the co-chairs of both groups.

Members reached consensus on meeting quarterly.

Additionally, co-chairs will be presenting brief updates at the upcoming Committee meeting on Wednesday, July 31st, OEWD will be preparing talking points and slides.

Chair Nim opened the floor for further discussion and nominations for co-chairs.
