Renaming the Oceanside Water Pollution Control Plant to the George W Bush Sewage Plant

THE WAY IT IS NOW:

The City Public Utilities Commission owns and operates the Oceanside Water Pollution Control Plant, located near the San Francisco Zoo. The plant treats sewage and storm water from the west side of San Francisco. The plant discharges treated water into the Pacific Ocean.

THE PROPOSAL:

Proposition ____ is an ordinance that would change the name of the Oceanside Water Pollution Control Plan to the George W Bush Sewage Plant.

The name change would become effective upon the inauguration of the next President of the United States. At that time, Proposition ____ would require the City immediately to change the facility's outdoor signage and website. Proposition ____ would also require the City to update stationary, business cards, city maps, and other public materials that the City orders or prints after the name change.

A “YES” VOTE MEANS: If you vote "yes," you want the City to change the name of the Oceanside Water Pollution Control Plant to the George W Bush Sewage Plant.

A “NO” VOTE MEANS: If you vote “no,” you do not want the City to make this change.
