

Violence Against Women Prevention and Intervention Grants Program

Through the Violence Against Women (VAW) Prevention and Intervention Grants Program, the San Francisco Department on the Status of Women gives almost $8 million in grant funds to community-based organizations that provide essential violence prevention and intervention services to the community. With these funds, Partner Agencies provide critical services to youth and adults who are survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, and human trafficking in six key areas:

- Crisis Line Services
- Emergency Shelter
- Intervention and Advocacy Services
- Legal Services
- Prevention, Education and Training
- Transitional Housing
