This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you, Zoe Papadopoulos

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

Dear President Elias and Commissioners,

In January of 2023, the Police Commission voted in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Over one year later, the policy is still in meet and confer.

There is no reason for these discussions to be taking this long. Racial disparities have not changed in traffic stops and it is time for creative policy solutions that do not reinforce the status quo. San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. Since 2018, SFPD has stopped Black people at least six times the rate of white people, searched Black people at least 10 times the rate of white people, and were at least 12 times more likely to use force on Black people than white people.

Each time the Police Commission meets and does not bring the policy back for final approval, it allows for this harm against communities of color to continue. Meet and confer has been going on for months, with plenty of time to reach agreement and move forward. That is why I am asking you to bring DGO 9.07 back for a final vote and implementation at the next Police Commission meeting.

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

Hello, my name is Rose, I live in District 11 in San Francisco. I write to encourage you to vote to adopt and begin implementation of the Pretext Stop Policy (DGO 9.07).

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,
Rose

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

As a past president of the Bar Association of San Francisco, I have been engaged in advocating for policies to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in SF for three decades. I write now to demand an end to the meet and confer process for DGO 9.07. It is time for the Commission to unanimously approve and implement the policy that was previously adopted after a thorough and lengthy public process.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. I participated personally in many of those. Moreover, the Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties. This is democracy in action and it works.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you, Nanci Clarence. Past President, Bar Association of San Francisco

Subject: Public Comment on Department General Order 9.07

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Emma Ryals Ward, and I was born and raised in San Francisco. I am a social worker who cares deeply about the future of our city. I have seen the ways this city has changed over the years, and I mourn for so much loss. We are the city with a unique opportunity to adopt radically liberatory policies, to embody a spirit of equity and community that we have been known for. I see this spirit slipping away each and every day with an increase in policing, more black and brown persons in our jails, disproportionate suspension and expulsion rates for black and brown children, and more. But I also know that change is always possible, that someone must lead and stand firm in the fight towards revolution. Our planet is in need of no less. I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency though the policy's implementation period and

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Stop the nonsense delay and implement the will of the people as it has been expressed, now.

Thank you,

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

The Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07 in April of last year. This was a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Like many cities across the country San Francisco over-polices communities of color via pretextual stops, while failing to actually solve crimes and protect those communities. It is the worst of a double edged sword. I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency though the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Susan Perez

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

Dear President Elias and Commissioners,

In January of 2023, the Police Commission voted in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Over one year later, the policy is still in meet and confer.

There is no reason for these discussions to be taking this long. Racial disparities have not changed in traffic stops and it is time for creative policy solutions that do not reinforce the status quo. San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. Since 2018, SFPD has stopped Black people at least six times the rate of white people, searched Black people at least 10 times the rate of white people, and were at least 12 times more likely to use force on Black people than white people.

Each time the Police Commission meets and does not bring the policy back for final approval, it allows for this harm against communities of color to continue. Meet and confer has been going on for months, with plenty of time to reach agreement and move forward. That is why I am asking you to bring DGO 9.07 back for a final vote and implementation at the next Police Commission meeting.

Secretary Stacy Youngblood,

Dear President Elias and Commissioners,

In January of 2023, the Police Commission voted in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Over one year later, the policy is still in meet and confer.

There is no reason for these discussions to be taking this long. Racial disparities have not changed in traffic stops and it is time for creative policy solutions that do not reinforce the status quo. San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. Since 2018, SFPD has stopped Black people at least six times the rate of white people, searched Black people at least 10 times the rate of white people, and were at least 12 times more likely to use force on Black people than white people.

Each time the Police Commission meets and does not bring the policy back for final approval, it allows for this harm against communities of color to continue. Meet and confer has been going on for months, with plenty of time to reach agreement and move forward. That is why I am asking you to bring DGO 9.07 back for a final vote and implementation at the next Police Commission meeting.

Police Commission Public Comment,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Police Commission Public Comment,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Police Commission Public Comment,

Dear President Elias and Commissioners,

In January of 2023, the Police Commission voted in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Over one year later, the policy is still in meet and confer.

There is no reason for these discussions to be taking this long. Racial disparities have not changed in traffic stops and it is time for creative policy solutions that do not reinforce the status quo. San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. Since 2018, SFPD has stopped Black people at least six times the rate of white people, searched Black people at least 10 times the rate of white people, and were at least 12 times more likely to use force on Black people than white people.

Each time the Police Commission meets and does not bring the policy back for final approval, it allows for this harm against communities of color to continue. Meet and confer has been going on for months, with plenty of time to reach agreement and move forward. That is why I am asking you to bring DGO 9.07 back for a final vote and implementation at the next Police Commission meeting.

Police Commission Public Comment,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Like many cities across the country San Francisco over-polices communities of color via pretextual stops, while failing to actually solve crimes and protect those communities. It is the worst of a double edged sword. I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency though the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Police Commission Public Comment,

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Emma Ryals Ward, and I was born and raised in San Francisco. I am a social worker who cares deeply about the future of our city. I have seen the ways this city has changed over the years, and I mourn for so much loss. We are the city with a unique opportunity to adopt radically liberatory policies, to embody a spirit of equity and community that we have been known for. I see this spirit slipping away each and every day with an increase in policing, more black and brown persons in our jails, disproportionate suspension and expulsion rates for black and brown children, and more. But I also know that change is always possible, that someone must lead and stand firm in the fight towards revolution. Our planet is in need of no less. I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Police Commission Public Comment,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Police Commission Public Comment,

As a past president of the Bar Association of San Francisco, I have been engaged in advocating for policies to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in SF for three decades. I write now to demand an end to the meet and confer process for DGO 9.07. It is time for the Commission to unanimously approve and implement the policy that was previously adopted after a thorough and lengthy public process.

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. I participated personally in many of those. Moreover, the Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties. This is democracy in action and it works.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you, Nanci Clarence. Past President, Bar Association of San Francisco

This DGO process has been refreshingly open to the public. There were 11 public meetings, listening sessions, and presentations held at various locations throughout the city. The Commission's website has a dedicated link placed prominently on the homepage that contains each draft of the policy, notes from the Human Rights Committee's listening sessions, relevant traffic stop data, comparable policies from other jurisdictions, reports from the Center for Policing Equity, and recommended changes from various interested parties.

This transparency must continue as the Commission and the Department transition to implementing this vital policy. The policy's reporting requirements should result in as much open discussion and sharing of information as the policy's creation.

San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. To address this recurring problem, I am asking you to vote to approve DGO 9.07 and maintain the degree of transparency through the policy's implementation period and beyond.

Thank you,

Police Commission Public Comment,

In April of 2023, the Police Commission voted unanimously in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Nearly a year later, with the meet and confer process over, it is time for you to unanimously approve and implement the policy.

Police Commission Public Comment,

Dear President Elias and Commissioners,

In January of 2023, the Police Commission voted in favor of DGO 9.07, a comprehensive policy to prohibit racially-biased traffic stops in San Francisco. Over one year later, the policy is still in meet and confer.

There is no reason for these discussions to be taking this long. Racial disparities have not changed in traffic stops and it is time for creative policy solutions that do not reinforce the status quo. San Francisco mirrors the state and nation in over-policing communities of color via pretextual stops. Since 2018, SFPD has stopped Black people at least six times the rate of white people, searched Black people at least 10 times the rate of white people, and were at least 12 times more likely to use force on Black people than white people.

Each time the Police Commission meets and does not bring the policy back for final approval, it allows for this harm against communities of color to continue. Meet and confer has been going on for months, with plenty of time to reach agreement and move forward. That is why I am asking you to bring DGO 9.07 back for a final vote and implementation at the next Police Commission meeting.
