Name in Chinese Characters

2

The names of candidates appear on the official ballot in traditional Chinese characters as well as in English. The Department of Elections can provide this transliteration or translation for candidates for local office, or the candidate may provide documentation of established use of a name in Chinese.

If a candidate has a character-based name by birth, that can be verified by birth certificate or other valid identification, the candidate may use that name on the ballot instead of a phonetic transliteration. A candidate who does not have a character-based name by birth, but who identifies by a particular character-based name and can demonstrate that they have been known and identified within the public sphere by that name over the past two years, may use that name instead of a phonetic transliteration.

Check one option (provide supporting documentation):

- I request that the Department of Elections, working with a qualified Chinese-language translator, provide a Chinese transliteration or translation of my name for all materials where it is legally required.
- I am providing documentation of established use of a particular Chinese transliteration or translation of my name for the Department to review. I understand that the Department's decision whether to accept a proposed transliteration or translation is final.
- I have a character-based name by birth and am providing supporting documentation of this name.

3 Name as it will appear with statement: Dylan Hirsch-Shell
My occupation is: Engineer / Small Business Investor
My qualifications are: _____

Keep Text Within the Vertical Lines. Word count starts here:

I've lived in San Francisco for 12 years, and I'm proud to have family roots in the city going back 5 generations.

I've worked hard to achieve academic and professional successes:

- 2 bachelor's degrees from MIT
- Ph.D. in Neuroscience
- 12.5 years of experience as an engineer at Tesla, developing advanced Electric Vehicle technologies

Now, I'm ready to apply that same work ethic to solving San Francisco's problems, including:

- homelessness
- public drug use
- crime
- government bureaucracy, ineffectiveness, waste, and corruption

During my Ph.D., I took on many roles:

- brain surgeon
- anesthesiologist
- statistician
- data analyst

At Tesla, I led a global team developing safety-critical software running on millions of cars.

This background in tackling complex challenges makes me well-suited to solving government's complex problems.

I've already helped many San Franciscans:

- fed thousands of unhoused individuals by supporting Glide Foundation
- gave job opportunities to formerly-incarcerated or at-risk youths by supporting Old Skool Cafe

Now, I want to do more:

- $1k/month for every San Franciscan (Universal Basic Income)
- reduce rents
- reduce taxes
- end chronic homelessness
- clean, safe streets

We can achieve these ambitious goals by tackling systemic issues with evidence-based policies and strong leadership, to deliver lasting change.
