YES ON G: SAN FRANCISCO'S SENIORS AND FAMILIES NEED AFFORDABLE HOUSING In the last decade, while the median income in San Francisco has soared, incomes for our seniors and working families have barely budged. A single parent working full-time at minimum wage earns just $37,600 a year—insufficient to cover the rent for suitable family housing. Similarly, over 56% of our households with a senior or disabled member are rent-burdened, with median monthly incomes hovering around $1,500—barely 15% of the Area Median Income (AMI). Instead of secure living conditions, they face the constant threat of displacement. Proposition G will provide hundreds of desperately needed affordable housing opportunities for these vulnerable groups. By supporting this measure, we help take care of our seniors who have contributed immensely to our city, and we ensure that working families can afford to stay and that their children can thrive in the communities they help build. On November 5th, your vote for Yes on G is a commitment to a fairer, more inclusive San Francisco. It's a vote for a city where our children have a future and our seniors can enjoy their golden years in stability, not insecurity. Help us make San Francisco a place of hope and opportunity for all. 	YES ON PROP G: ENSURING HOUSING EQUITY FOR THE BLACK COMMUNITY
	San Francisco's Black community is highly overrepresented among the City's lowest income residents, leading to widespread housing insecurity and an increased risk of homelessness. Many in the community, including seniors, families, and Certificate of Preference holders, face significant barriers to accessing affordable housing due to a lack of deeply affordable housing units. Our community has faced these housing challenges for far too long.
	Prop G will specifically fund housing for our City's lowest income residents. By creating more deeply affordable units, Prop G directly addresses systemic inequities and creates the opportunities our community needs to break into the affordable housing system.
	We face a choice: continue to neglect the needs of hardworking families and seniors on fixed incomes or take decisive action to ensure our housing system is fair and inclusive.
	Vote Yes on Prop G to build a future where every member of our Black community has access to safe, stable, affordable housing.

	Proposition G takes an essential step towards fulfilling our City's goal of expanding access to safe and affordable housing for households at all income levels. While San Francisco is making progress toward building new housing and upgrading existing units we also need to ensure that our lowest income seniors, families, and people with disabilities can qualify for them and are not left behind. This is a need that existing federal and state programs have been unable to adequately address. Placed on the ballot with unanimous support of the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor, Proposition G will address this gap in our housing programs by: Committing a stable and consistent level of funding to increase affordability in our City's affordable housing Creating hundreds of more affordable units relying upon existing funding sources Keeping the most vulnerable San Franciscans housed and preventing them from becoming homeless Establishing a public process for the development and oversight of the program This fund will work together with new and existing housing programs and increase their effectiveness, making hundreds of additional units affordable to extremely low-income households. On November 5th, let's take this much needed step towards a more inclusive and affordable San Francisco. Join us and vote Yes on Prop G!
