13
12	Proponent's contention that wind driven erosion and drifting sand are reasons to close the Great Highway is meritless. Sand removal is necessary, as it's been for decades, and will continue under any use of the Highway.

11	If Proposition K passes, the Great Highway will remain paved, but closed to private vehicles. According to the Controller, if closed the Great Highway will still require sand removal and maintenance of the roadway for emergency and other government vehicles. This includes access for trucks to service the PUC's Westside Transport Box, a huge tank that extends fifty feet below the road surface for the entire length and width of the Great Highway , and which is integral to our wastewater system.

	San Francisco's four-lane Upper Great Highway (UpperGH), extending two miles from Lincoln Way to Sloat Blvd, is a crucial west-side transit route accommodating private, commercial, and public vehicles. It features well-protected paths for walking and cycling and is designed with traffic lights and multiple lanes to ensure smooth traffic flow. The current ballot measure fails to address the realities of a major road closure and park conversion, as this would need plans, approvals, infrastructure, and budget for such a development. If the measure passes, increased commuter traffic on neighborhood streets will be a permanent reality as drivers can no longer use UpperGH. A 2019 SFMTA study reveals that fewer than 5% of San Franciscans commute by bicycle, meaning the closure would disproportionately impact those who rely on UpperGH for driving, including older and disabled individuals who currently enjoy the efficient and scenic route. Any possible cost savings are unproven, because the need for ongoing maintenance, such as clearing beach sand blown in by ocean winds, will continue whether road or park. In this proposition, there is also an absence of a comprehensive plan for managing or financing the traffic, parking, facilities, waste disposal, neighborhood disruption, or emergency response access that would result from converting UpperGH into a park. Furthermore, UpperGH is one of only three clear north-south routes serving the west half of San Francisco, and its closure would worsen traffic issues, particularly in emergencies. Given these problems, this measure is an expensive and superficial attempt at repurposing UpperGH without addressing important practical needs or impacts. JEFFREY RODMAN CHRIS

	The current pilot program on the Upper Great Highway is a hard-won compromise, one that works for the majority of San Francisco residents. It strikes a reasonable balance: opening the road to cars during weekday commute hours while closing it to vehicles on weekends. But Measure K threatens to upend this delicate arrangement, imposing a rigid, car-free policy that could have dangerous and far-reaching consequences. Proponents of Measure K promise a park in place of the open road, but the measure includes no concrete plans for park construction, only a vague commitment to "seek permits and funding." This raises the very real possibility that the Great Highway could be closed to cars for years, left to languish as an abandoned thoroughfare rather than the vibrant green space residents deserve. The funding required to build and maintain such a park is also a glaring question mark. The section of roadway in question stretches for miles, and the city is already struggling to keep up with maintenance on existing parks. San Francisco faces a fiscal cliff of over $750 million – where will the money come from to transform the Great Highway? And then there's the traffic. Closing the Great Highway to cars at all hours will inevitably push traffic onto already-congested Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue, or onto the narrow, residential avenues that wind through the Outer Richmond and Sunset, home to families and seniors. The current compromise on the Upper Great Highway works. It balances the needs of commuters, recreationalists, and residents alike. Measure K, on the other hand, is a zero sum game. Let's keep the compromise that serves us, rather than rolling the dice on a potentially disruptive vision. Matt Boschetto

	Why change what's working? Right now, there's a massive open space right next to the Great Highway. It's called Ocean Beach. And there's a biking/walking path for those whose idea of recreation doesn't involve sand. Currently, the Great Highway is closed to traffic on the weekends – and open to cars on the weekdays when West Side commuters use it to get to and from work. It's an essential corridor on the West Side for anyone moving north to south or vice-versa. We already have the exact right compromise. Measure K would change all that, banning cars permanently on the Great Highway, throwing even more traffic onto Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue – turning already heavily used corridors into parking lots. That's a terrible idea – and what's the goal? Proponents want to create a 3.5 mile long open space that has no dedicated funding and will take millions from the city budget. Right now, Park & Rec is barely able to maintain the parks it currently runs. Creating a park of that size will drain money from maintenance and development of parks all across the city. Even if the park was completed as imagined, the dunes block views of the ocean, and sand will blow from the dunes onto the park on a daily basis. This supposed utopia will turn into an expensive nightmare. Matt Boschetto

	The current pilot program in place on the Upper Great Highway has been accurately called a compromise. Most residents city wide agree that this arrangement is reasonable; open to cars during the week and critical commute times, and closed to cars on the weekend. Measure K would disrupt all of this. Measure K would immediately close the Great Highway to cars at all times, forcing traffic east onto Sunset Boulevard and 19th Avenue, or more dangerously, onto the sleepy outer avenues that many families call home. Not only would this be a traffic nightmare for residents and those passing through, but also a tragedy waiting to happen, with frustrated drivers racing through neighborhoods in an attempt to beat the traffic. To add insult to injury, Measure K does not stipulate any concrete plans to build a park. The actual impact of the legislation is simply banning cars, with the caveat that they would seek permits and funding. In effect, the Great Highway could easily turn into just an abandoned roadway, with no park. If we're going to remove the compromise in place, wouldn't we at least want to be guaranteed that something will come of it? Speaking of funding, where will the money come from for this park? The closed section of the roadway will be miles long, and City Hall can't even keep up maintenance on current parks, not to mention the $750 million+ fiscal cliff the city is facing overall. Don't vote to disrupt the compromise in place. What we have works for the most people, and with Proposition K there are too many unanswered questions and immediate negative consequences. Green Building, under $10M the city 60000 jobs

	Westside Families Need Your Help As a former parent and co-founder of a PAC that hosts monthly meetings at a South Sunset elementary school, we face a serious threat to the school's enrollment. SFUSD still lacks neighborhood assignments, forcing many families to travel long distances to attend. For working families, a quick commute to school is essential. This particular school offers attractive language programs, drawing students from across the city, with nearly 600 enrolled. About half of the families commute daily from the Richmond District, traveling through the Upper Great Highway (UGHW), a 7-minute drive with synchronized lights. However, Proposition K on the November ballot will permanently close UGHW to personal and commercial vehicles, diverting 20,000 commuters, including families, workers, retirees, and disabled individuals, to Sunset Blvd and 19th Ave. This will cause significant delays and traffic jams on already congested routes. Closing UGHW will make it impossible for many families to continue enrolling at this school, harming its enrollment pipeline and forcing families to seek private schools or leave the district altogether. UGHW is currently in a hybrid pilot program as a weekday commute route and weekend park, with a year and a half left for evaluation. Yet, Prop K was added to the ballot without proper community outreach or discussions about mitigating the impact of alternate routes. Support our families and schools. Vote NO on Prop K to keep the Great Highway open. Josephine Lee, President CDC

The Great Highway, due to its excellent design with no intersections or cross traffic, has been practically accident free for decades. Alongside it are designated paths for pedestrians, joggers, hikers, and bicyclists. This public, open recreational space is shared with four lanes of traffic divided by a landscaped median. Every two blocks at each traffic light with walking signals is a wide, paved crosswalk for safe pedestrian access to and from the beach.

Unlike other areas of the Highway, families in homes and apartments live along this 2-mile section. When the highway is closed, driving within feet of front doors are grocery delivery vans, motorcycle groups of 100+, flatbed trucks, buses, and heavy traffic belonging far away from where children play and the elderly walk.

Why ban cars from a safe highway that relieves congestion and adds to the safety of the surrounding populated area? Why rebuild what is already here and working well?

To do so will require spending multiple millions to calm congestion and gridlock on the high-injury streets accepting thousands of diverted vehicles. San Francisco is deep in debt. Sand removal, landscaping, and policing by the beach has been consistently underfunded. To fund even less maintenance will result in making the area useless to everyone as winds cover it with sand.

A NO vote will still close the Highway for special events and weekends, but will share it Mondays through Fridays with thousands of drivers safely using it every day to commute to work, schools, hospitals, stores, the airport, and other destinations.

Please stop the madness closing our streets. Save the west side. VOTE NO!

← More incompetence from San Francisco government.

The proponents would have you believe this measure creates a park, it does not. There is no funding in Prop K for a park, but proponents claim that the "savings from sand removal" will pay for a park. False: 1) sand doesn't stop coming just because we call the road a park, removal will still be required, 2) the average cost of sand removal over the past 14 years: $300,000/ year.

Is that enough to build a park? No. I served on the Presidio Trust when we created the awesome Tunnel Tops, that 14 acres cost $117M. Turning the entire UGH into a park would cost .

The current arrangement: closed on weekends, open during the week, was a compromise at least residents could get to work and drive kids to school. Now they feel betrayed. This change will make life so much more difficult. Why?

Ocean Beach is 82,000 acres, 1000+ acre GG Park sits to the east. There is a beautiful recreation path running along Great Highway and a wide promenade. Not only is there no plan for a park, there is no need for one.

There is nothing required in the ballot measure to address the loss of one of only three main North-South arteries and the resulting nightmare traffic. The ideas of Joel Engardio in slick videos are not promises, they are just thoughts that may or may not come to pass. What is sure to come to pass is a drastically reduced quality of life for people who rely on this artery - and for those that rely on the other 2 arteries as they will become hopelessly clogged and congested

So one must ask why would we need another recreation area in the coldest, foggiest, windiest part of SF that would cause massive traffic congestion and daily pain on the west side of SF?

	Proposition K will prematurely close one of the three main north south traffic arteries for the western SF neighborhoods. It is not true that there are alternatives that are five minutes away and don't prolong commuting times. When you decrease capacity by 1/3 and divert it to 19th Ave and Sunset Blvd, transit times are INCREASED, particularly when those two alternatives are delayed by construction, loss of a transit lane with the creation of HOV lanes (Park Presidio and Crossover) or accidents. It will INCREASE smog emissions as vehicles divert to less efficient routes. It will remove one of the safest roads in SF and divert traffic to higher injury streets. To close a vital traffic artery used not just by SF residents but by Peninsula residents who work/shop/attend school in SF NOW for a future potential recreational purpose makes no sense when there is ALREADY a national recreation area (Ocean Beach), a walking path, and shoulders for bicyclists who have successfully shared the Great Highway for decades. 20,000 vehicles per day use the Great Highway. Recreational use pales by comparison.
	Voting yes will not create what proponents call "the Great Highway Park". There needs to be infrastructure changes to mitigate the diverted traffic, establish safety measures to ensure a closed GH doesn't become a homeless encampment or prevent illegal activities like the 4th of July fireworks a few years ago that set fire to a neighboring home's deck. That will take years of planning, implementation and budget allocations which are currently not in place. Don't put the cart before the horse. Please vote NO to closure of the Great Highway now.

And no budget for keeping this fantasy park clear of sand so the most likely scenario is the beach will be far less accessible. Bullet 3: "...protect coastal ecosystem." False. a) The road closure has encouraged the public to run roughshod over the dunes, creating a new crisis not seen previously in the UGH's 95 years. b) Proponent's plan transfers car pollution from the UGH to residential streets and actually increases pollution in the area due to slower, idling traffic. Bullet 4: "revitalizing west side small businesses." False. Another made up, data-less assertion. The merchants in the area are opposed to closing the road. Bullet 5: Lost utility of UGH is just laughable. The part that is already expected to close is tiny and there is a very short, easy detour. The Great Highway is one of ONLY 3 major North-South arteries on the entire West Side of SF, serving approximately 20K commuters on weekdays. Proponents squeal "now is the time to decide." 	Supporters of Measure K have this pipe dream of a massive park along the Great Highway. I've looked at the numbers. It would cost over a billion dollars to create a park that spans 125 acres. Where is that money going to come from? Out of budget that funds parks all across the city. With a $800m city budget deficit, we barely have enough funds to maintain our existing parks. 	CONSIDER OUR VETERANS. VOTE NO ON K. Proposition K should not even be on this ballot. It cancels the Pilot Program that was supposed to run until December 31, 2025, which called for the Great Highway to remain open to cars Monday, 6 a.m. through noon Fridays, giving the 20,000 cars that used it on weekdays before the pandemic a chance to get to work, school, health care, and weekday duties with ease. August 16, 2021, the road was closed to cars weekends and holidays, but left open during weekdays since the closure was harming commuters and nearby residents. At all times, the 10' wide paved bicycle/walking path and the hard-packed sand jogging path that runs the entire length were open. The Veterans Administration Hospital in the outer Richmond serves 95,000 veterans patients yearly. It has 3,500 employees and 350 volunteers. It is open 24 hours a day. Thousands of patients and workers come from throughout San Francisco and beyond using the Upper Great Highway. Making them stop and go through the Outer Sunset as they try to get to or from the VA hospital is cruel. Also cruel, is diverting the 20,000 vehicles who use the Upper Great Highway daily onto the narrow streets of the Outer Sunset District, bringing noise, fuel pollution, and dangerous traffic to neighborhood families instead of having their fumes float on the ocean air out to sea. The text of Prop K deletes all the excellent provisions of the original ordinance: data monitoring the use of the Highway, as well as neighboring streets during closure and when open, community outreach and discussion, and sand mitigation measures. None of these provisions have been accomplished; instead, Proposition K abandons them, and undemocratically stifles information and public engagement on this vital issue. VOTE NO ON K!
