	Public safety can't wait! Prop F will make a difference NOW to increase and retain police officers in our neighborhoods. The San Francisco Police Department is more than 500 officers short of the bare minimum 2,074-officer "full duty" staffing level required to keep our city safe. That shortfall will likely increase as hundreds of existing police officers are eligible for retirement soon. The police shortage is felt across our city. From extended emergency response times and rampant open-air drug dealing, to delayed investigations of car break-ins, San Franciscans demand change. Fixing the police shortage cannot wait. Prop F is a common-sense solution that puts officers on the streets, conducting investigations, walking through neighborhoods, and doing REAL police work. Prop F will also reduce reliance on costly overtime. With current low staffing levels, our police officers are working excessive overtime. By decreasing overtime, San Francisco will help avoid police burnout. That will lessen the possibility that overworked, stressed officers will get into tragic use-of-force incidents which can result in injury or death. This could save lives as well as save taxpayers millions in legal costs. Vote yes on Prop F for safer streets and safer neighborhoods. — Stop Crime Action

Like all other major U.S. cities, however, we face a once-in-a-generation police staffing crisis. Nationwide, it's the most competitive environment for law enforcement hiring in modern history. As Mayor, I've funded aggressive new strategies for police recruiting. We've made SFPD the best-paid major city in the region for starting sworn officers, and we're now seeing police academy classes full again. We've seen impressive results, too, with lateral hires from other law enforcement agencies. But officer retention strategies are also needed to fully staff SFPD sooner. That's why I urge you to join me in supporting Prop F! Proposition F... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • includes a cost-effective, time-limited Deferred Retirement Option Program, or DROP, with kev safeguards in place to enhance safety services and speed police response times. • Creates a strong incentive for frontline SFPD officers, inspectors, and sergeants to delay their retirements for up to five years — so long as they work in neighborhood patrols or investigations. • Enhances oversight on recruiting and civilianization efforts, while emphasizing our pledge to reach 30 percent women officers by 2030. And it will significantly reduce our reliance on mandatory overtime. I'm committed to get SFPD back to full staffing, so we can stop drug dealing and theft, and protect residents, businesses, and vulnerable seniors. 	PROP F IS THE RIGHT APPROACH TO FIX SHORT-STAFFING CHALLENGES. As a public safety professional for nearly 30 years, I can attest to the historically unprecedented challenges law enforcement agencies currently face when it comes to recruiting and retention. The San Francisco Sheriff's ^{Office} Department faces similar challenges, and the enhanced oversight and deferred retirement option program (or DROP) that Proposition F is proposing for SFPD is a worthwhile approach. It's a cost-effective, time-limited, strategically tailored program that builds in key safeguards to ensure that DROP participants deliver front-line public safety services. Let's face it: no one benefits from chronically short-staffed public safety agencies — least of all taxpayers, who end up paying more money for costly mandatory overtime. Short-staffing can also take an enormous toll on the morale, health and safety of law enforcement personnel. And it denies San Franciscans the high-quality public safety services they deserve. Prop F is a smart approach. It will incentivize our most experienced public safety professionals to postpone their retirements while they continue to serve our City. And its success could offer an important model for other emergency services and law enforcement agencies — including mine — to improve public safety in San Francisco. Please join me in voting YES on Prop F. — Sheriff Paul Miyamoto *
