	Registered Nurses working for the San Francisco Department of Public Health are on the front lines of every crisis our City faces. As the only Level 1 trauma center, we turn no one away. Victims of violence, sexual assaults, cardiac arrests, strokes, and frequent pedestrian-versus-auto/scooter accidents arrive 24 hours a day. We also provide health care, mental health services, and drug treatment to the City's most vulnerable populations. Laguna Honda Hospital, the largest skilled nursing facility in the country, was recently saved from closure thanks to our staff's dedication. Despite this, we struggle to recruit and retain great nurses. The City's broken hiring process causes delays of hundreds of days to hire a nurse into a permanent role. Nurses seeking full-time positions are denied and offered temporary exempt per diem jobs, which come with no benefits, pension, or paid time off. When a nurse finally secures a permanent position, they lose retirement credit for their per diem service. Proposition I would allow permanent nurses to buy back up to three years of pension credit for their service as per diems, incentivizing them to stay and encouraging proper hiring from the start. More importantly, the amendment would correct an inequity. Nurses, the majority of whom are women, are the only classification of City workers who cannot buy back pension time. By extending this right, the amendment encourages long-term commitment to San Francisco's public hospitals and clinics. San Francisco's safety net nurses ask you to vote YES on Proposition I. Heather Bollinger, RN SEIU Local 1021 RN Chapter President
