	Our unique Pacific Ocean coast should be a renowned destination, open for San Franciscans to enjoy every day. Join us in voting YES on Proposition K to create an Ocean Beach Park we can all be proud of. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Prop K: a good plan for a great park. We know San Franciscans want a coastal promenade because people voted with their feet: the weekend pilot is already the City's third most visited park. By making the park full-time, Proposition K enables improvements like seating for seniors, gives weekend service workers access, and is the necessary first step toward creating an iconic coastal park. And the City Controller confirms taxpayers save money.</li> <li>● The pilot ends next year, and the park will be gone if we don't save it. The weekend pilot was a temporary trial to see whether San Franciscans would use a coastal promenade. After four years, the answer is a resounding yes. But a weekend-only park can't have even basic park amenities like seating. That pilot expires soon, so voters need to choose the future of our coast.</li> <li>● Traffic impacts are minimal. Years of studies and community engagement went into Proposition K. Multiple transportation agencies have determined that traffic impacts are minimal for commuters and neighbors alike, even before planned traffic improvements. The Great Highway is an unreliable route, closed up to 65 days every year due to blowing sand without the hyperbolic impacts opponents claim, because a nearby six lane arterial, Sunset Blvd, has ample capacity to handle Great Highway traffic.</li> </ul> Speaker Emerita Nancy Pelosi Senator Scott Wiener
