	This measure goes way beyond "pro-life versus pro-choice." Prop O will discriminate against life-affirming healthcare facilities that San Francisco citizens depend on and lessen the number of services they can provide to the community. A yes vote would: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Require signs to be installed outside of free pro-life medical clinics in the city of San Francisco to advertise abortion centers. Nothing of the sort would be installed outside abortion centers. • Create a designated coffer for soliciting grants, donations, and budgeted tax funds to pay for elective induced abortions up to 24 weeks gestation. • Create a new website to highlight abortion businesses and disparage "limited service" centers. Because of the falsehoods Mayor Breed spread at her Prop O press conference about SF's pregnancy resource centers, we feel this website will discourage people from interacting with those facilities and receiving quality care there. Rather than calling out material aid centers or clinics by name and citing negative reviews or violations of the law, governments have been increasingly castigating all PRCs categorically. • Limit city funding from going to health facilities that refuse to abort healthy fetuses or refuse to refer people to businesses that do. This special treatment limits the expansion of services that life-affirming facilities can make available to the public. • Let new companies purchase and operate in any property zoned for non-residential use, as long as they are an abortion business. • Create an "Abortion Provider Appreciation Day" for the city. Most people who self-identify as pro-choice believe that elective abortion should be available only in the 1st trimester, but this measure would applaud doctors harming older fetuses. Together, we must reject abortion extremism by voting NO on Prop O.
